

Anticipated time required to restore power in each area

【Explanation of documents】

This document indicates the anticipated amount of time required to restore power in each area as of 0:00 AM, September 21, based on the announcement that we released as of September 14.

Individual homes may continue to experience a power loss due to low-voltage line and drop line obstructions. Also, power outages may continue in some areas in which it is difficult to make repairs, such as mountainous regions, and even in regions (-) where power was mostly restored by September 20 .
